Dear Corporation Commissioners,

I wanted to write to you today to express my views on Arizona's increasing energy demand. I'm sure you know that Arizona is one of the fastest growing states in the country. With more people comes more energy demand. The temptation to increase the supply of energy is great, but I fear that supply could come from dirty energy sources like coal.

Instead of taking that path, I implore you to invest in energy efficiency and reduce the demand side. Although short term costs and rates may increase, in the long term these investments pay for themselves and consumers save money through lower consumption. This summer, help Arizonans waste less energy and money on their AC.

Sincerely,

Alex Nelson
