DOCKETED BY

I am troubled to hear that the Corporation Commission is considering the elimination of energy efficiency standards.

Having raised two children (and now a grandaughter) I would like to consider retirement. However, like many my age, I have no choice but to continue working to make ends meet. I have recently moved into a smaller home; but, I still have concerns about the cost of electricity. Energy is an ongoing cost that never seems to go down. Energy efficiency requirements empower me and local contractors to help me lower my bills.

I want a better future for my children and grandchildren. I want Arizona to maintain its natural beauty. I want a stable economy for businesses and individuals. I want enough food, water and natural resources for the next generations to thrive. Energy efficiency standards are one of the simplest tools we have to support these goals.

This is not a Democrat issue or a Republican issue. We should all want a better future. Please maintain or strengthen the energy efficiency standards. Thank you,

Deborah Kaufman
