"BMSC has already commissioned an engineering study, by the same unaffiliated third-party firm that evaluated the CIE Lift Station, to evaluate the best remedy for the Boulders odor problems. When completed, that study will allow BMSC to select its preferred solution and determine how long it will take to implement. Accordingly, we will require BMSC to complete its engineering study and provide copies of the study to all other parties to the rate case, along with identification of the remedy selected by BMSC and its estimated time to completion, within 60 days of the effective date of this Decision. If no party objects to the remedy selected by BMSC within ten days of receiving the information from BMSC, BMSC shall implement the remedy. However, if any party files an objection to the remedy selected by BMSC, Staff shall within twenty days of the first objection select the remedy to be implemented by BMSC from among the two remedies suggested by Mr. Francom and the one selected by BMSC.
