Dear Sirs

I am retired and have lived at Hillcrest Bay full time 24 years. These APS wires and poles were here when I bought property here. And they were here when everyone bought property here. And APS has assured us that they are not going to change anything here for a long time to come. If they didn't like the utilities the way they are why did they invest so much into property here? Also I know almost all the people that live here full time. Almost all of them are opposed to the UCSA. The people that want to change it are mostly people that live in California that are only weekenders. Most of their time spent here is spent out playing on Lake Havasu that Hillcrest Bay overlooks. Since this is their second home they are mostly people that have well paying jobs and can afford almost anything they want. That is not the case with the people that live here full time. Quite a few are retired like myself and most of the rest are still working people. As you are surely aware of, jobs here do not pay as much as jobs in California and this UCSA is going to be really hard for the retired people and the working people to handle. When we bought here it was not only reasonable in price it was a nice place to live. Now a lot of people that only come here on weekends and holidays want to take this place out of our price range. With the economy the way it is now (and is not likely to get better soon) that is especially true. And now it is up to you Commissioners to either let them make it hard on us, or tell them no, it is unreasonable to make it so hard on the people that live here full time. I am hoping you will say no!!
