Dear Chairman Foreman,

I am writing this letter in reference to Elizabeth Webb. She is currently intervening in the Vail to Valencia transmission line case. Over the past few years I have come to know Elizabeth and am familiar with her exuberance and passion for volunteering. Often, she takes on causes that others fail to understand; those that are often less than "glamorous". Elizabeth Webb is a focused community advocate who observes changes that will affect her region and takes on the challenge of representation.

Ms. Webb is a local home owner in my Supervisorial District 4. I have observed as she has researched several issues; Tucson Electric Power sub-station and power pole placement, local mining, education, transportation, and water issues. She makes the time investment to research and prepare materials and visual aides to make an effective case - typically in a very short period of time.

Elizabeth has the ability to work with persons from diverse backgrounds and groups with various agendas to form effective cooperative relationships. She is active in environmental, education, human rights, and community preservation issues. She is a consensus builder.

Although her style is often "unique", her personal dedication and convictions are never in doubt.

Sincerely,

Ray Carroll
