DOCKETED BY

To Whom It May Concern,

June 1, 2009

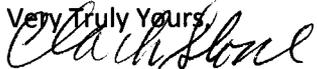

We wish to object/ withdraw our signature from the petition to establish the USCA and we also object to the cost of the conversion of this underground utility conversion.

Given the economic climate currently involving many people in this country, including ourselves spending this amount of money does not appear to be a prudent decision at this time. We have both experienced a layoff of our jobs and if we have to pay for this conversion we would not be able to keep our property. From the writings that we have received there are many other owners in the community that are having the same or similar issues. It would be an undue hardship to force this conversion on the many of us that do not have the means to pay for it. The bond amount that will be placed on our properties in the form of a lien to pay for the amount that is not paid for through the hook up fee will further put our properties in the red zone as to negative equity. This means that those of us that would try to find a way to sell our property because we cannot pay for this conversion would be even further upside down in our equity position.

We implore the courts to please see the fact that for many of us this conversion will cost us our homes and putting the wires that have been hanging on poles for years, underground, is frankly just not worth the loss of our homes to sale or foreclosure.

If you have any questions for us, please do not hesitate to contact us at the above listed numbers.

Very Truly Yours

Clark and Piper Slone
