Case or Utility Name: LPSCO

Position on Docket: Con

The basic necessities of life are food and water. When grocery stores can double their prices without public outrage or consumer abandonment..then our water supplier should also be able to double their charges.

Of course, food stores could never get away with doubling their prices, because the consumer has the option to shop elsewhere. However LPSCO has a monopoly on supplying water, so we have no consumer option. You are our only protection from this outrageous gouging at our economically most vulnerable moment.
