RECEIVED

I am against Trico's current Net Metering reset date request of March/April. I am writing to request a reset date of October for the net metering program. This would allow those with a photovoltaic system the ability to use excess energy generated during the winter months to offset their usage during the summer months. It would also allow customers to earn credit for excess energy at a rate equal to what they pay, instead of a wholesale rate equal to 25% of what they purchase equivalent energy at.

Please see attached document requesting a reset date of October for TriCo's net metering program.

-Jason Schissel

Attached:

Please establish a reset date of October for net metering. A date of March or April is far less likely to encourage the adoption of solar power by citizens.

Docket: Trico Net Metering
#: E-01461A-09-0450

Utility: Trico
Position: Other

Please require Trico to use a net metering reset date at or near the end of the calendar year, such as 10/31, 11/30, or 12/31. Their current request for end of March or April would deprive customers of much of the benefit of installed systems -- AFTER Trico encouraged such installations.

Furthermore, the ACC regulation on net metering rules, enacted 10/16/2008, states in part:

ARIZONA CORPORATION COMMISSION
UTILITY COMPLAINT FORM

"Any customer net excess generation (NEG) will be carried over to the customer's next bill at the utility's retail rate, as a kilowatt-hour (kWh) credit. Any NEG remaining at the customer's last monthly bill in a calendar year will be paid to the customer, via check or billing credit, at the utility's avoided cost payment. "
A calender year means the reset date should be 12/31.

Finally, Trico delayed submitting their proposed tariff as long as possible, until Sept 2009.
Please do NOT allow any further delay in IMPLEMENTATION of Trico net metering.

A Grid Tied PV System size is based on a household's yearly average energy usage and a net metering system. The guiding principal is that energy used during the summer months that surpass what the system generates is offset by the excess energy generated during the winter months. Currently, for each kwh in excess that goes back into the grid, Trico pays customers at a wholesale rate equal to 25% of what they charge. Trico then earns an extra 75% profit on that energy when it resells it to another customer. Residents invest in a PV system to offset their carbon footprint, not to help generate additional revenue for electrical companies. continued...

We have been waiting for a long time for Trico to convert, and instead of seeing results we see requests to prolong action. TEP has already switched prior to the mandate, and yet Trico has made no progress on its own.
