Customer sent the following -

Although solar energy would be nice, Hualapai Valley Solar has created controversy because of water cooling. That form of cooling very possibly could deplete our aquafer and take away our most precious resource, our water.

Hualapai Valley also comes up short in other areas.

1. Arizona Smart Growth practices are ignored.
2. Mohave County is contradicting their own policies regarding new industry.
3. Hualapai is not using the best available technology.
4. Per ACC industry is to follow community master plan.
5. Effects on wildlife could be severe.

Thank You

Received the following -

We support clean energy initiatives, however, not at the expense of future generations. A "green economy" dominated by greed is not good enough.

Appropriate technology is possible for solar farms in desert regions. An initiative by Enviromena Power Systems in Masdar City is using flat panel photovoltaics.

Alternatively, please mandate dry-cool technology.
