To Whom it May Concern:

I read an article written by Mr. Marc Spitzer recently.

I am writing to support your opposition of selling CNPI. I can't tell you how disgusted I am with the amount of telemarketing calls already received in our house. No doubt our information was sold in lieu of a recent financial transaction of some kind. When my wife and I closed on our house, we received about 3 to 5 calls a night trying to sell us water purification systems for our house. That lasted about 2 to 3 weeks. Then the door-to-door soliciting began. Recently we inquired about possibly refinancing our current mortgage. The same night we came from meeting with our mortgage broker, the calls began. Telemarketers with the mortgage offers.

Of course the tele-marketers are only part of this potential disaster. My internet and phone call information is nobody's business. The propositions from the telecommunications companies are simply absurd! Please keep them at bay. If anything, we need stricter laws to keep them out of our homes as it is.

Keep up the fight.

Sincerely,

Kenneth Hooker
