DOCKETED BY

Regarding Docket Number W-02526A-10-0499

Dear Sirs:

Upon reviewing the above docket number, we the stockholders would like to request a minimum of 90 days or more in order to handle this problem effectively for a perspective buyer.

According to the ACC (Arizona Corporation Commission), you want us, the other stockholders to return operations to Klaudia Ness. At your request, we will do this against our will. One of the problems that we have is that Klaudia Ness has held the company hostage. As you know, in the last two and half years, Klaudia Ness, Secretary, has refused to answer her phone, notify us of meetings, and or give any information to us as the stockholders. The superior court in Flagstaff set a court order for her to turn over books, and she has yet to do so.

Upon completing this, we request that the accounts not be changed in name or account number, and that Erik Ness can still access account information for the perspective buyer.

Upon completing this, we request that Klaudia Ness answer her phone and make available time to give information such as: books, billings, receivables and payables, previous taxes, and any other information that we may need or that a perspective buyer might need.

We would like to request that the ACC acknowledge that BWC is a very small and poor company trying to abide by big corporation laws. We have truly done the best that we can do.

Sincerely,

Brad Ness
