Subject: APS Rate Hike

Here we are again with APS whinning about their needs. There are no new houses being built, there are alot of foreclosures sitting empty, so of course APS has to they have to make up the difference somewhere. If you look up on the internet just how much their CEO is making along with the rest of the non profit board, I guarantee it will make you sick. I for one cannot afford to put gas in my car let alone have my electricity bill increase another 8 dollars. Please do not give APS another rate hike.
Sincerely, J Matherly
