Subject: rate hike

To: ACC Members,

I am totally disgusted with APS. I can't believe that they have enough guts to actually ask for an increase in rates at this time of our suffering economy. Every time they (APS) ask the ACC for an increase in rates you people grant them their increase. How in the world can they justify their request? Everyone is sacrificing in one way or another. Even the company that I work for is cutting back. My wife works for the school district and they are even laying off teachers, along with general employees. Everything is going up except wages. I am requesting that you take careful consideration before you grant them their rate hike this time. I have several friends that work for APS and they haven't talked about any sacrifices being made by APS. Their biggest sacrifice has been limiting how much they drive and waste fuel (obviously because of the rising cost of diesel fuel). It's time APS starts sacrificing like everyone else (except for Obama of course). Please don't grant them their rate increase at this time.

Thank You,
Dave and Connie Miller
