Dear Chairman Pierce and Commissioners,

I do not think I have ever contacted you before, but I have a concern. My APS monthly bill arrived today and it was for $98.06, which is a bargain. My concern is with the $6.50 Environmental Benefits Surcharge. I see this as a social program which has no place on my utility bill. APS is a utility company which is regulated because it has no natural competition. APS is not expert in energy efficiency or renewable energy installations for small consumers, nor should it be mandated to perform these services. I am quite capable to choose my own appliance or light bulb without the advertising or rebate. Please get back to the basics of providing a regulatory framework that provides safe, reliable, and as economic as possible utility service, without the social programs.

Kind regards,
Sheri Tobin
