Dear Commissioners:

Tucson Electric Power is pushing for a 15% rate increase for their services. Considering the Tucson Metro area they serve, the population has a greater older and or retired group of people living on fixed incomes. Probably 25% of this Metro area is made up of this group. Can they stand the big of a jump and stay well and healthy?

I know cost continue to rise and power operating costs, like food and transportation, aren't going down either. Maybe a 5% increase could be a more comfortable target that we could all live with. Is this a thought that we might keep all those involved happy physically and operationally as well?

You Commissioners have this decision to make. I hope you will consider the above thoughts when you research this important issue.

Sincerely,

Paul G. Marsh, Past Pima County Supervisor
