E-01345A-13-0248**

Received 35 letter IN FAVOR, all worded in similar fashion as follows:

To the Commissioners:

DOCKETED BY

The net metering policy was originally put in place to encourage families and homeowners in Arizona to install and use solar power panels by promising lower energy costs. Although these families do have lower energy bills, it put the average energy user at a disadvantage by requiring them to pay higher prices for the energy they use. In addition to be(ing) extremely unfair for those of us that don't have rooftop solar panels, the state simply can't afford to continue this program.

Did you know that for each home solar energy system that is installed in Arizona, there is a $1,000 charge per year, per user that goes unpaid? Where do you think that money comes from? You guessed it -- from the average energy consumer. Their energy bill continues to increase as the number of solar energy systems continues to rise.

For fairness to all energy customers, revision is needed to this policy, or better yet, just get rid of it all together and enact something that is fair and good policy.

Thank you.
