RE: Net Metering Costs to Non-Solar Customers (Docket No. E-01345A-13-0248)

I am a voter, a taxpayer and a resident in your district. I am 100% supportive of solar production in the state of Arizona. I believe that the Valley is the perfect place to become a leader of the solar industry as a whole. However, in order for solar to be successful in the future, changes need to happen today.

Net metering is the system by which solar customers are given "energy credits" for solar power they produce. It's fair, solar users made the upfront investment and produce their own energy, so why should they be charged by utility companies. The thing that most people don't understand is that in order for the solar panel systems to operate, they need to the grid that the utility companies pay for. If solar users aren't paying into the utility system, where do you think their financial burden falls? The burden falls on those of us that use the regular energy system for power. And that's where the net metering system becomes unfair. Why should I have to pay for solar customers? I already pay for my use of the grid.

Please make the change to the system that creates fairness for all.

Thank you for your help,

Suzanne Horne

RE: Net Metering Costs to Non-Solar Customers (Docket No. E-01345A-13-0248)

It has come to my notice that a majority of electricity consumers, including myself, are paying increasingly higher monthly payments to subsidize customers who have installed solar panels. I'm all for helping preserve the environment but there must be a fairer way of going about it all and I'd appreciate it if you would support finding an alternative.

Sincerely,

Alicia Roll
