RE: Net Metering Costs to Non-Solar Customers (Docket No.: E-01345A-13-0248)

Dear Mr. Pastor.

I attended a public meeting recently with APS in Arizona and learned that people with solar panels pay differently than customers without solar. They do not pay for their part of all the costs involved in delivering the electricity to their homes. Only the non-solar people pay for this.

In order to change this situation, APS has decided to recommend to the Arizona Corporation Commission that changes are made so rooftop solar customers pay their fair share which would remove the burden from all of the non-solar customers who currently are paying for more and more. I am writing this letter to add my support to these recommendations. I think it is important that you hear from all concerned citizens and take this issue seriously. It is not fair that one neighbor should be paying more than another. That is not the American way.
