I am writing to you today because my life was endangered again yesterday when I was riding my motorcycle North about 10 miles from my home. The nearly new rear tire was shredded after a nail was placed in the tire. I filed a report with Yavapai County Sherriff deputies (DR 14-016853) because I believe this incident is the result of a series of false reports initiated by Patsy Olsen.

I have found had nails in my truck tires correlating to ACC Open meetings about Montezuma Rimrock Water Company (MRWC) over the last three years. Before the previous open meeting I found two nails in my motorcycle tire shortly exiting the freeway 8 miles south of my home. This rash of flat tires has occurred in conjunction because of the frequency and correlation with ACC open meetings and public hearings. This is an attempt to prevent me from attending public proceeding or to do me harm.

Montezuma Rimrock Water Company employee Don Barnes assaulted me in January of this year. I reported his assault to Yavapai County Sheriffs Deputy in (DR 14-002428). The assault stems from Don Barnes belief, generated by statements from Patsy Olsen, and found in the Docket written by Don Barnes. Don's statement from last June in which he describes the numerous reports from Olsen is all hearsay, made up by Patricia Olsen. Don has not witnessed any intimidation tactics because it simple is not true. John Dougherty and myself are not the only targets of Patsy Olsen's spurious claims. Vivian Burns of ADEQ was also victimized by claims of a derogatory nature.

The repeated and numerous false allegations made by Patria Olsen have created a dangerous situation and demonstrate the problem of an "ethically challenged" operator. Patricia Olsen primarily makes accusations to further her interests as owner of the MRWC. In addition to the false claims to employee and customers she has made outrageous claims with ACC security. Most notably She dropped an order of protection with ACC security minutes before his first appearance as an intervener. She employed the same tactic to prevent me from attending a hearing. Judge Harping noted in her comments "I was just sitting in the back of the hall quietly taking notes".

Attached to this memo I am including a sample of the false reports which damage my reputation and continue to incite hatred within the community. Olsen's attempts to vilify myself and John Dougherty have gone unchecked and will undoubtedly continue until she is held accountable for her "ethically challenged" behavior.

Sincerely,

Ivo Buddeke.

In the late afternoon of May 16, 2012, my wife Rose Mary and I received a frantic call from Patsy Olsen stating that she had been hit by John Dougherty on his motorbike. We rushed over to her house and found her to be visibly shaken and dirt smeared on her clothing in the thigh area. Patsy stated that when she looked out her back kitchen window she saw Dougherty on his motorbike at her #1 well and went rushing out to tell him to leave MRWC property. As she was walking up the road to the well Dougherty turned his motorbike around and started down the road. She stated that he deliberately bumped into her with his bike and kept on going. She called Yavapai County Sheriff Office and a deputy was dispatched to her house. I left while the deputy was interviewing her. My wife stayed behind and when the deputy finished his interview he told them both that he was going to go down the road and talk to Dougherty.

In addition to the above incident there have been numerous instances where Dougherty and/or Ivo Buddeke have attempted to bully, harass, intimidate and confront Ms. Olsen. During the past three-and-half years we received numerous calls from Ms. Olsen because she felt threatened because Dougherty and/or Buddeke would show up at her well sites. Because she usually works alone on her sites or wells my wife and I have been available to ensure Ms. Olsen's safety until the threats were gone or the deputies could arrive. There is no doubt in our minds that these behaviors by Dougherty/Buddeke were nothing more than personal vendettas disguised as community concerns based on statements by Dougherty/Buddeke in the past. Even during a hearing to get an Order of Protection against Dougherty the fact that Dougherty called Ms. Olsen 'a stupid Mexican woman' was not disputed by Dougherty in court. Who in their right mind constantly approaches neighbors, files complaints with ADEQ, ADWR, WIFA and YCSO Board of Supervisors to shut down MRWC? Dougherty is not a civic-minded person (as far as we are concerned) and doesn't have any stake in our community - he is not a resident of Rimrock, isn't an MRWC customer (he's a well owner) and is not involved with protecting the water table.

Synopsis:

On 06/21/2012 at approximately 1820 hours I took a report of burglary at 2126 S Tombaugh Way.

Narrative:

At 1759 hours on 06/21/2012 and while working with Adam squad as a uniform patrol unit, I was dispatched to 2126 S Tombaugh Way for a possible burglary.

Upon my arrival I contacted resident Patricia Olsen, whom I identified using her Arizona Drivers License. Olsen stated that when she had returned home that afternoon from grocery shopping the front door to her residence had been ajar.

When I asked if Olsen was sure that the door had been secured before she left, Olsen stated that her son had been the last to leave and he told her that the door had been locked.

I asked Olsen if anything had been taken from the residence and she stated that nothing appeared to be missing. Olsen did inform me that she had had a similar problem at another residence in Yavapai County where people had been entering her home to obtain business records from her home office.

Olsen took a cursory look around her office but was unable to ascertain if anything was missing. According to Olsen, the two men whom she had been having problems with were John Dordy and Ivo Buddeke. Olsen had no proof that these men had been into her home.

I asked if Olsen had any housekeeping staff or other parties that could have been in the house. Olsen stated that no one else had access to the residence.

As I was leaving, Olsen informed me that she had just gone to her son's room where she kept her HP back up drive and the drive was missing. Olsen stated that she had stored the drive in the very back of her son's closet and in one of his shoes. Olsen informed me that unless people knew what they were looking for, they never would have found the drive. According to Olsen, no one ever knew that the drive was there.

Olsen estimated the value of the drive to be approximately $75. I was unable to obtain any physical evidence from the residence due

NARRATIVE:

I was assigned this case for follow-up. I reviewed the report which stated Patricia Olsen had returned home and the front door to her residence was open. Patricia checked around the residence including her office and was unable to tell if anything was missing. Patricia then stated there was an external hard drive missing. The hard drive was hidden in a shoe in the back of her son's closet. Patricia stated nobody ever knew the drive was hidden in the closet.

Patricia stated she had been having problems with a John Dordy and Ivo Buddeke. There is no additional information listed in the report for those two subjects.

I checked I-Leads and was unable to find any additional information.

I later checked I-Leads again and saw Patricia had filed a second report involving a violation of an Injunction. Officer Ryan was able to contact him and asked him about the possible violation.

I called Patricia on 07/14/2 and left a message asking her to contact me.

On 01/23/13, I called and left a message for Ivo to contact me. Ivo returned my call later in the day after I was off duty. I contacted on 01/24/13. I informed him I was calling in reference to an incident involving Patricia Olsen. I asked Ivo if he knew Patricia and he stated he did. I asked Ivo if he had ever been over to Patricia's residence. Ivo stated there was another ongoing criminal matter and he was told by his attorney Tom Kelly not to make any statements. I asked Ivo if he could say if the matter occurred in Yavapai County. Ivo stated it was. This was asked to ensure it was not involving the same matter I was calling in reference to.

Based on the information that nothing else is missing from the residence and nobody knew the hard drive was hidden, and the lack of further suspects. This case will be closed early case closure.

Investigation Narrative

Synopsis:

Patricia Olsen and John Dougherty are involved in a long standing dispute, and Patricia has obtained an Injunction against Harassment against John. Today, Patricia saw John near her business property and she ran to confront him in the roadway. She stood in the roadway as he rode his motorcycle towards her and stopped. She yelled a profanity at him, and pointed in his face. He then drove forward and Patricia alleged that his motorcycle struck her body.

An investigation determined that the motorcycle did not collide with Patricia. It appeared that Patricia was possibly illegally blocking the roadway and both parties were told to seek civil remedies.

Related D.R.: #12-015962 (reported violation of Injunction against harassment)

Narrative:

On 5-16-2012, at approximately 1730hrs, I spoke at length with Patricia Olsen on the telephone reference a reported violation of an Injunction against Harassment that Patricia had against John Dougherty.

Patricia called YCSO dispatch to report that her lawyer received an e-mail today advising that John had viewed construction equipment at Patricia's Water Company business at 4599 E. Goldmine Road.

I called Patricia back and she told me about the e-mail her lawyer received. She alleged to me that this meant that John had been on her property. Patricia then told me that she had actually seen John on the property at the time he was there yesterday around two o'clock. She said, however, that she did not call the police yesterday because the Sheriff's Department doesn't take any action (she then gave me a couple of examples).

I listened to Patricia's account of what had happened and also reviewed the Injunction listed in the police computer. I pointed out that it prevented John from going directly on Patricia's property and she said that it said he had to be "25 feet" away from the property. I saw that there were no measurements anywhere in the Injunction and reiterated that to Patricia. She then said that each Deputy had complained about the same thing, but Patricia said the Judge specifically told her it was 25 feet.

I asked Patricia some very specific questions about where she had seen John on her property and her answers seemed somewhat evasive. At one point she said that she had "snuck" up on him and hid behind a bush while he was 10 feet away. I pointed out to her how close that was and questioned whether someone could be within 10 feet of someone and not have them know.

I asked her what she was alleging as the crime and she said that he had violated the order. I learned from Patricia that he had never seen her and did not know that she was inside the house. Patricia did allege that she had been outside throughout the day, and felt that John had been watching her, but she admitted she had not seen John. After speaking with Patricia, I told her that the only possible violation of the Injunction might be whether or not he had been on her property.

Patricia alleged that he had actually been on her property and I decided to ask her questions to determine where he had been, etc.

As I asked specific questions about where John had been, I pointed out several times that nothing in the Injunction seemed to prevent him from doing what he was doing. This seemed to irritate Patricia, but she listened patiently and asked many questions. I finally told Patricia that I would be driving out to her location to have her walk me through the exact movements John had made. I hung up and went and prepared to call a victim reference a stolen credit card I had recovered.

Instead, I received another call from Patricia and I recorded this call on my audio recorder. Patricia sounded calmer and said that she wanted to change her mind on reporting the violation of the Injunction. She and I talked at length again about how the Injunction could be possibly modified by the judge to include distances, roadways, etc. that could make it more effective. I did tell Patricia several times that the Judge, however, might not decide to enact any of the changes she would ask for.

Patricia got off the phone and I called my victim from another incident. When I got off the phone, Sgt. Williams advised me of a new call that Patricia had made to dispatch alleging a traffic offense. He asked that I drive out and contact her and investigate the incident.

Motorcycle Incident Investigation:

I arrived at 4615 E. Goldmine and contacted Patricia. There was an older female and a male and female couple also there. Everyone seemed rather excited and I listened as Patricia told me what had happened.

Patricia told me that shortly after she got off the phone with me, she was telling her houseguests what I had said reference amending the Injunction. She said that Barbara Anna Brunner happened to be near the rear window of the house (which looks out, and up the hill to where the Water Company business property is located).

Barbara exclaimed that John was near the Water Company on McBride Road (a private property roadway that appears to be a regular roadway, only narrower).

Patricia said that she went to the window, saw it was John on a motorcycle and that he had driven "up to my gate on my well site" (this was later found to be untrue, based on the definite tire marks found on the roadway).

Patricia told me that she walked out of her house and up towards the Water Company property and she saw John turn his motorcycle around. She said that he rode his motorcycle directly towards her (the roadway is 13 feet wide and the only way out is to go back towards Goldmine Road). Patricia said that when John stopped she yelled at him, "You leave me the fuck alone! Do you hear me?! You leave me the fuck alone!"

Patricia demonstrated to me as she said these words that she had her right hand in the air in front of her, with her index finger pointed at him and "poking" the air as she spoke to add emphasis to her words.

Patricia said that was when John accelerated his motorcycle and hit her body on the right side. She pointed to her body and said that his handlebar hit her on her right side just above the waist line, and that his black saddlebag hit her on the outside of her right thigh.

Patricia then told me that Barbara saw what had happened. I spoke with Barbara who said that she had some medical issues and couldn't get outside right away. She said that she did see him on the motorcycle and could identify that as being him riding on the roadway.

I then learned that "Diane" (who did not come outside) had also seen the incident. Barbara (at my request) went inside and asked Diane if she saw the motorcycle actually hit Patricia. Diane told Barbara that she saw him get "very close".

I examined the roadway then and asked if McBride was actually a private drive (it looked like a street, or roadway, including street sign and stop sign). Patricia said that it was a private road. I then examined the signage and found that nothing indicated that it was a private road, or that people were not welcome to drive on it. I had Patricia walk me to the point on the roadway where the incident had happened and I took numerous photographs of the roadway (I later returned and took measurements, also).

Based on this, I quickly concluded that John had not violated the Injunction by simply driving on that road. I also concluded that it appeared, at least initially, that Patricia had ran from a place of safety in her house, outside to be in the direct path of John who would have to go directly to where she was at, in order to leave the area.

Further, I could see the marks in the dirt where he had driven, and it appeared that he had driven straight, at least prior and after the area where Patricia had been standing (I couldn't see the continuation of the marks right where Patricia had been) and made sure that he stayed away from driving on her property.

As I returned to the group, the man who was standing there loudly said that John must be arrested. I asked him why he would say that, since I didn't really see a violation, even if his motorcycle had hit Patricia. The man loudly said that there was an Injunction against John.

I pointed out to everyone there (who all seemed to have the same opinion that John was not allowed to be anywhere near this area) that I had seen the Injunction in the computer and that he was really not prohibited from doing very much. I pointed out he could be in the area.

I then listened several times as Patricia repeated the story and became irritated when I said that she had caused John to stop in the roadway. I learned that she felt he should have simply driven to the far right side of the roadway and driven on past her. I felt that this would place him in a position where he might actually hit her and I told her that I felt he was safer by stopping.

Eventually, Patricia's husband drove up and he was quite angry, even before making any contact with me. He asked immediately if I was going to be doing an investigation, and make an arrest, and pointed out that he was going to be calling the Department of Justice if things weren't done to his liking.

At one point, Patricia's husband (believed to possibly be Gregory Olsen) said that if the Injunction wasn't going to be effective in keeping John away from the home, then he was going to drive to John's house and yell at him from the street. I pointed out there was a difference between exercising a person's ability to move about freely, and causing a disorderly conduct by yelling. I suggested that he not go over there, but told him that I wasn't preventing him from going there. He then drove off and I later saw him in front of John's house.

I did then go over to John's house and spoke with him about the incident. He told me what had happened, and said that he was at the location to take some photographs of two new tanks that had just been installed. He said that he had just filed a motion with the Arizona Corporation Commission to get a restraining order against "Well Site #1" (possibly filed as recently as 5 hours before this incident).

He said that he saw Patricia come running around the corner of her house towards him, and said that he had only been there in front of the drive for 30 seconds. He said that because she has an Injunction against him, he didn't want trouble and he turned his motorcycle to the left and made a u-turn. He said that as he finished his turn, she was right there in front of him, blocking the road. He said that he did not want to drive past her, because she might jump in front of him and say that he had hit her.

Instead, he said that he still had his motorcycle helmet on, his wind visor down and he said that he pulled up to where she was standing and he stopped. John said that Patricia immediately yelled that he had better "fucking" stop bothering her "you son of a bitch!" and John said that he remained completely quiet.

He then rode forward, leaning his body to the right to stay away from her and he continued on home. I then told him that she was making the allegation that he had struck her with his motorcycle and he appeared to be genuinely surprised, but then said that she would say something like that because she liked to stir up trouble.

I then went and examined the BMW motorcycle that John had been riding. I asked him to get the keys so he could unlock the steering column and sit on the bike and show me how it looked as it would have looked when he stopped in front of Patricia.

I immediately noticed that the left rear view mirror stuck out at least 2 to 4 inches farther than the handlebar. I examined the back of the mirror, which would have been the part that would have struck Patricia. I saw that the entire mirror, and metal assembly holding the mirror and attaching it to the handlebar was very dusty, dirty and covered in raised bugs. It was easy to see that nothing had been disturbed on the back of the mirror. In addition, it did not appear that anything had been disturbed where the arm holding the mirror met with the handlebar -- indicating that the mirror had not been pushed towards the body of the motorcycle, and then pushed back into its original place. It appeared to me that the mirror had not had any contact with anything in a considerable amount of time, if ever.

I took photographs of the motorcycle. I then stood in the position that Patricia had shown me she had been standing. I saw that to impact me in the places she had shown me, that I had to turn almost completely away from the motorcycle, in order for it to impact me on the middle right side of my body. In fact, I was essentially walking away from the motorcycle in order to line the parts of the handlebar, etc. with the middle right side of my body.

Based on this, I concluded that the incident did not occur as Patricia said it did. I then gave John my card, with the report number on it, and advised him that he might consider getting an Injunction against the Olsens, in order to prevent what was happening at the time (Mr. Olsen had parked his car on the street almost in front of John's house. He had then sat himself down on a power transformer in front. He was making statements (talking, not yelling) about past problems between the two of them which John simply ignored).

I then returned to Goldmine Road and began taking measurements. I saw that Patricia was out in the darkness with a tape measure and saw that she had determined that when John was riding on McBride Road that he was 13 feet from her property line. Because of this, she felt he was in violation of the Injunction. I pointed out that there was no "25 foot" indicator in the order and again suggested that she go to the court in the morning and speak to Judge Dwyer (I believe was the name of the Judge) about amending the order.

I gave Patricia my card with the report number on it, and suggested that I take photographs of her injuries. We went inside the front door of her house and I took a photograph of the right side of her waist area. She told me that although that area had hurt earlier, she could not find any marks. I also did not see any marks.

I then took a photograph of her lower right thigh area. I definitely saw what appeared to be a small fresh bruise on the side of her right thigh, although there was no way to tell what caused it. I took two photographs and then prepared to leave.

Patricia asked me what was going to happen with the investigation and I told her that I didn't believe that she was struck by the motorcycle in the manner that she had said. I also had pointed out repeatedly to her earlier that I believed that she had possibly committed a crime by blocking a thoroughfare (I was unsure, however, since this was a private drive if the Title 13-2906A statute was applicable in this situation).

I told her that I would document everything, including the photos and the audio recordings. I told her that she could consider getting an injury attorney to assist her if she felt that was necessary.

I then concluded my investigation and left the area.

Investigation Narrative

On 05-07-12 at approximately 17:18 hours I received a violation of a civil order report. I spoke to the complainant Patricia D. Olsen who lived at 4615 Goldmine Road in the Lake Montezuma area. She told me she had a valid no contact order of protection against Ivo W. Buddeke. She said during the day he passed by 3 times as the passenger of a white passenger car. She said he was wearing a straw hat and looked at her each time he went by.

Olsen said she could not see who was driving, did not see a license plate and had never seen the vehicle before. I went to 5280 Bentley Drive where Ivo lived. There I spoke to a Marissa Myers. She said she was house sitting for Ivo who had been in San Francisco since 05/01/12. I then called and spoke to Ivo by phone. Without mentioning what I was told, I asked if he was in the area so we could meet and talk. He said he had been in San Francisco since May 1st.

I called and spoke to Olsen and told her Ivo was in San Francisco. She said she was sure it was him, but could have been wrong. She went on to say she was not getting any help from the Sheriff's Office who were refusing to arrest Ivo and said she was going to be contacting the Justice Department.

I told her a person could not be arrested with probable cause and evidence to support an arrest and criminal charges.

End of My Involvement.
