Dear Arizona Corporation Commissioners,

Weatherwize Building Performance Specialist was created and established as a family own business in 2008 as the call to help this country become less dependent on foreign sources of oil and/or energy.

Weatherwize has performed over 500 energy audits on residential home in Arizona. As we continued to refine our technique and knowledge of the home performance industry, we created a spin off business call Arizona Sly Shades. Arizona Sky Shades manufactures and installs shading devices for skylights on commercial buildings. In our first summer (after 3 years of development and testing) we have saved our customers over $10,000.00 on their utility bills. We project this amount will triple for the 2015 season and continue to grow from there not only in Arizona, but nationwide.

This is an Arizona start up business, we intend to stay here in Arizona and continue to employ local residents. This idea and the concept of what we, Arizona Sky Shades, would have never come to fruition if not for the call to become energy efficient as a nation. The home performance industry is a vital tool to the development of more success stories such as ours.
