For those of us living in this Brookside Residential development, this type of an increase is a great deterrent to our continued residency here. I, for one, have now put my home on the market. This development has been going downhill for the past couple of years, and this increase in Water rates is not going to be a positive reason for anyone moving here. In fact, it may soon be seen, by the fewer and fewer residencies in the development, that there is going to be no one left to even BUY the water. I see that our rates are even higher than those in Arizona City Proper. Isn't that a bit ridiculous? If anyone who has seen our neighborhood in the past would take the time to peruse it now, they would see what a decline the attraction of the area is. How can a water increase of this size even be legal? Or is it the corporations laws that in itself encourages the wealthy owners to do this to it's customers?
