Nature Of Opinion

Docket Number: E-01933A-15-0322 Docket Position: Against

I feel sure that raising electric prices to this severe degree would not only be detrimental to its customers, but a slap in the face of everybody who strives to be conservative in their electric usage on a consistent basis. Electric billing should be contingent on how much, or little power is being used at any given time. I liken this to the way cell phone companies used to charge exorbitantly for minutes used at certain times of the day, or even overage costs. That proved disastrous for all parties involved, and, as such those companies were absorbed appropriately. I plan on posting TEP's disgraceful proposal on my Facebook wall as well as a link to this comment form. Thank you.
